Condition of the Crops in October—Decrease of the Public Debt—New Jersey Marshal Appointed, &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, October 30, 1868.

THE CROPS.

The Department of Agriculture has issued a report as to the condition of the crops in October. It says that the full promise of the early summer has not been realized in the wheat harvest. The increase of area over that of last year, in its effect upon the aggregate production, is nearly neutralized by a small diminution in some of the principal wheat growing States in yield per acre; so that the increase in the total quantity, as shown by the October returns, is scarcely more than three per cent., and that is obtained mainly from the Pacific coast. Averages for October appear to show a decrease in production in Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Texas, the latter having only one half a crop. The other States indicate an increase. In Mississippi the gain is very slight; in Minnesota thirteen per per cent; Iowa six per cen:; Missouri eight per cent; Nebraska thirteen per cent; Kansas twenty-three and California twenty-five per cent. Many States in different parts of the country, especially in Maryland and Wisconsin, report a disportionment in the yield of grain, in threshing. The oat crop is light in the Eastern, Middle and Southern Atlantic States, but not a full average in Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa. In other States the product is above the average, the largest increase being twenty-one per cent. in Nebraska. In Wisconsin the deficiency is nine per cent. Considerable injury from the frost to the corn crop is reported in Southern Indiana, Illinois, and Iowa and more northern latitudes in some parts of Iowa an estimate of forty per cent. of soft corn is made. From Southern Indiana, Southern Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania come complaints of immaturity. In consequence of the wet weather, there have been accounts of injury from drouth, but no general or very severe drouths have been reported. The total product will not be what was hoped in the early part of the season, or yet what is needed for the country, with its rapidly increasing population, but somewhat larger in quantity than last year, which was a season peculiarly adverse to corn production.

The area of cotton is somewhat less than last year. The culture has been better, and the preparation for planting more complete, while labor has been regular and reliable as a general rule. Early in the season the promise was fine, serious losses of late have been incurred, however, principally from the depredations of the cotton caterpillar or army worm, which have proven more general and severe in Georgia than elsewhere. It is very troublesome in portions of Alabama and Mississippi, and somewhat prevalent in the Carolinas and Arkansas. The heavy rains in Tennessee and the Southwest have caused some anxiety, but have done less damage than was expected. The returns indicate a smaller crop possibly by 15 or 20 per cent. than last year, but a complete estimate will not be made till the crop is gathered.

Peas and beans will be nearly an average crop. Buckwheat is very generally deficient. Connecticut, New Jersey, Minnesota, California, and some Southern States, furnish favorable exceptions. Sorghum has been more successful than last year in Southern New England, New Jersey, Delaware, the Gulf States and California.

Potatoes are reported at a full average crop, with a deficiency of ten per cent. in New York and Pennsylvania, from three to seven per cent. in the Southern Atlantic States and Tennessee, twenty per cent. in Illinois, ten per cent. in Iowa, eleven per cent in Indiana, fifteen per cent in Ohio, sixteen per cent. in Michigan, and a greater or less reduction in other Western States. Rerurns from Louisiana indicate an increase of twenty-two per cent. over last year in the sugar cane.

The amount of old wheat in hand is somewhat less than usual throughout the country, with the exception of the cotton States, which have a higher average than last year. This remark will not apply to Texas, where the graineries are uniformly empty. The quantity left over in Wisconsin is relatively somewhat lower than in the neighboring States,

The stock of beeves in preparation for the market is larger than it was last year west and south of New Jersey, except in Indiana and Illinois, which States constitute an important beef providing section. The deficiency in Illinois is placed at two per cent., and in Indiana at five per cent. The condition of the fattening cattle is almost universally of a superior character, giving promise of better and larger meat supplies than usual.

THE PUBLIC DEBT DECREASING.

During the first week in October the disbursements from the Treasury Deparment were very heavy, and it was thought there would be considerable increase in the public debt, but the receipts from the customs during the month has been very large and will probably make up the deficit, and it is now expected that the statements will show a slight decrease.

FINANCIAL.

The debt statement for the month will be published next month. It will show a very slight decrease in the debt, owing to the recent heavy custom receipts. Postmaster General Randall denies that there is a heavy deficit in his Department, as reported. The expenditures reach nearly twenty-three millions, including subsidies for Brazil, Europe, Japan and California mails, and the receipts foot up twenty-two millions of dollars.

REPORTED REMOVAL.

The President has determined to remove Gen. Reynolds from command in Texas. Gen. Buchanan will succeed to the command, it is said.

APPOINTMENT.

Under ths recent decision of Attorney General Evarts, the President has appointed C. R. Cornwall to be Marshal of New Jersey.

Locomotive Explosion.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, October 30.—A freight locomotive, while working at a gravel pit on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, eighteen miles from this city, exploded last night, killing the conductor, fireman and three boys standing near, and wounding the engineer and brakeman.

THE NEW REBELLION.

New Orleans Inaugurates War--Fearful Condition of Affairs in that City

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 30,—Last night armed bands of Democrats patrolled the streets and negroes were shot down. The remaining Republican club rooms and some residences were sacked. Prominent Republicans were generally concealed. Large numbers huve been killed here and in St. Bernard, and mob law has rulled, but no United States soldier has fired a gun.

This morning's newspapers demand the immediate resignation of the State officers, the departure of carpet-baggers, and those laws which do not suit them shall be trampled under foot. Governor Warmouth does his duiy nobly amid the dangers and difficulties.

This afternoon General Rousseau told the Police Board to remove Superintendent Williamson and appoint Gen. Steadman, or take care of themselves. They complied, and General Steadman is reroganizing the police by superceding the Republicans. The excitement is intense, but less demonstrative this evening. General Rousseau publishes an address saying that he will support General Steadman in preserving peace. General Rousseau's course favors the revolutionists.

Last night General Steadman withdrew his resignation, and is now in charge of the police. Intense excitement prevails at City Hrll, and fears are expressed that trouble may come of the failure of the rebel Tom Adams to get the position which he covette.

An injunction was taken out in the Fifth District Court by the Metropolitan Police Commissioners, restraining the Mayor from establishing a police force, on the ground that it will bring about a collision.

The Republican advises Republicans to vote wherever they can, without a reasonable apprehension of being subjected to personal violence, but says; "We are certain that if every possible effort should be made, it would be an impossibility to poll one-half of the real Republican vote of the State." It also says "there are tribunals of appeal beyond the mobs of Louisiana, and to them we can go with full confidence for redress of all our grievances."

COLFAX.

He is Enthusiastically Received Everywhere—How he Nails the Louisville "Courier's" Falsehoods, and Brands the Author as a Falsefier.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

EVANSVILLE, IND., October 30.—Hon. Schuyler Colfax was tendered a public reception to-day in the Opera House, and he spoke at Turner Hall at night. He came down from Vincennes on a special train in the morning, and was received at all the stations by large crowds of people with music, flags and decorations. His audiences in this city were very large and very enthusiastic. At the Opera House he was introduced to the audience by Gen. Veatch. Mr. Colfax spoke of the auspicious indications of triumph for the right next Tuesday, and of the peace and prosperity for all, South and North, that would follow. In the course of his remarks he alluded to a falsehood of the Louisville Courier's He said that on Wednesday morning, the day he spoke at New Albany, that paper charged that in 1852, after Gen. Scott's nomination, and when the tide was running against him at the South, he (Colfax,) wrote bogus letters from South Bend daily, and for weeks, for the Louisville Courier, telling of the enthusiasm he pretended there was in that region over Scott's nomination. He denied the charge in toto in his New Albany speech on Wednesday, declaring that he had never written such letters to that or any other paper, thus falsely dated. Thursday's Courier acknowledged that its charge of the previous day was untrue, but reprinted a letter from its files dated April, 1852, at New Orleans, and signed "Louisiana," before the nomination, but urging Scott in the South, as sound on slavery, and which its editor says he is willing to swear was written by Colfax. Mr. Colfax branded this as equally false with the previous statement, which its author had acknowledged to be false, and said if the editor swore to it, he would only be as guilty as when he joined in the treasonable attempt to destroy his country. He proved its falsity by citing the fact that in May, the next month after the date of this bogus letter, he voted in the National Convention that nominated Scott against the platform because it was pro-slavery.

He also drew attention to a telegram from Louisville, sent on Wednesday night, to the Associated Press and published in Thursday morning's papers of the West, embodying that last charge and saying that the disclosure of this letter had created a sensation there and much comment, but no one outside of the Courier office in Louisville, could have seen this bogus letter till the paper was printed the next morning, showing that this also was a manufactured falsehood.

SOUTH AMERICA.

Advices from Paraguay—A Battle Expected Daily—Consul Shot While Under the Protection of the American Legation—Redress Demanded—Conduct of Minister Washburne Censured at Buenos Ayres.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LONDON, October 30.—The South American mail steamer "Rio Janerio" brings dates up to the 9th inst. The latest advices from Paraguay state that Gen. Lopez had taken Violetta with all his forces. The allied army is near at hand, and news of a battle is daily expected.

The Portugese Consul had been forcibly taken from an American legation, at Assumption, and that a United States war steamer had gone up the Paraguay river and a peremptory demand would be made by the American commander for redress. The recent conduct of Mr. Washburne, United States Minister to Paraguay, is much censured at Buenos Ayres.

FROM EUROPE.

Lord Stanley and the Alabama Claims—Scientific Expeditions—France's Frontiers—Proposed Spanish Loan—New Captain General for Cuba.

GREAT BRITAIN.

MOVEMENTS OF LORD STANLEY.

LONDON, October 30.—Lord Stanley has not yet commenced the Parliamentary canvass at Lynne. It is said that he remains in London awaiting Mr. Seward's reply in regard to the settlement of the Alabama claims.

SCIENTIFIC EXPEDITIONS.

Two scientific expeditions to the North Pole are now fitting out, one at Benien, under Petaman, and the other at Havre, under Lambert.

FRONTIERS OF FRANCE.

Maps, said to have been prepared by the orders of the French Government, have been issued to show that the second Empire has strictly regarded its frontiers as laid down in the treaties with neighboring powers. It is inferred that this explanation is made to cover the Emperor's abandonment of a war policy.

SPAIN.

SPANISH LOAN PROPOSED.

MADRID, October 30.—It is estimated that the deficit in revenues this year will reach 50,000,000 pounds sterling. The Spanish Government seeks to raise a loan of 200,000,000 crowns, at an interest of six per cent.

CAPTAIN GENERAL OF CUBA.

MADRID, October 30.—Senor Escalate has resigned his office under the Provisional Government.

General Dulce has finally accepted the appointment of Captain General of Cuba, and will soon sail for Havana.

LIVERPOOL, October 30.—Cotton market—sales for the week, including yesterday, 119,000 bales, of which 35,000 bales were for export and 18,000 for speculation. The stock is 445,000 bales, including only 32,000 bales American. The amount afloat for Liverpool is 135,000 bales, including 29,000 from the United States.

HAVRE, October 30.—The weekly statement of the Havre cotton market show a total stock in port of 54,000 bales; sales for the week 25,000 bales.

PARIS, October 30.—The bullion in the Bank of France has decreased sixteen million of francs during the week.

LONDON, October 30.—Calcutta Linseed 60s. 6da6ls. Tallow 53s. per cwt. Sugar and oils unchanged.

ANTWERP, October 30.—Petroleum 53½ francs for standard white.

HARVE. October 30.—Cotton dull tres ordinaire, 6 ordinaire, 140 francs.

ARKANSAS.

Blair's War Commenced—Fiendish Murders by the Ku-Klux-Klan.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, October 30.—The Democrat has the following special from Little Rock, Arkansas: On the 24th, while Captain Willis, Bureau Agent, Captain Porter Andrews, United States Assistant Assessor, and Sheriff Stundle were en route to Rocky Comfort, in Little River county, they were fired upon by the Ku-Klux-Klan concealed in the brush. Captains Andrews and Wiills were killed and the Sheriff badly wounded. Before the band left a negro came along and was killed. Not far from the place they met another negro and killed him. Captain Scott, Senator from that county, is in great danger, and the loyal citizens have turned out to protect him.

A dispatch from Memphis to the District Headquarters here asks General Smith to send twenty men to Marion, Arkansas, immediately, and adds if this is not done there will hardly be a loyal man left in the county. Six men have been murdered in Crittenden in two nights, and others shot for attempting to bury them.

BRIEF NEWS ITEMS.

—A Lima letter states that the Attorney General publishes an opinion in relation to the claim of a French resident in Lima, who loss his property by mob riots in January, to the effect that foreign citizens can only recover by process of law in the same manner as Peruvians themselves. Gen. Hovey, the American Minister, immediately entered a protest against this opinion, and his example has been followed by the French, English and Prussian Representatives.

—The Republican State Committee of New York have issued an appeal to the people relative to fraudulent voting at elections, concluding as follows: "We advise you, as citizens, to investigate fully, challenge fearlessly, and fail not to convict and punish every man who violates the laws of the country and the spirit of its institutions."

—Edwin Forrest has sent his check for sixty-five thousand dollars to Mrs. Danforth, formerly Catharine Sinclair, Mrs. Forrest, etc. This is in settlement of the judgment of the courts. Mrs. D. has married a young fancy man, and is living in style on Staten Island on the strength of this decision.

—An immense Republican meeting was held in and around Cooper Institute, New York, last night. Speeches were made by Gen. Sickles, Hon. John A. Griswold, Hon. James O. Putnam and Hon. E. Delafield Smith. There was also a large torchlight procession.

—The Junta of Biscay, a province of Spain, declares itself independent of the Supreme Government, claiming sovereign rights. In this fact appears a great difficulty regarding the solution of national questions.

—The Treasury Department has ordered a duty of $2,50 per hundred, and 25 per cent. advalorem of cigars, cigarettes and cheroots, to go on at once.

POLITICAL.

Important Address to Republican Voters by the Allegheny County Executive Committee.

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

The Republican Allegheny County Executive Committee respectfully submit the following suggestions relative to the election of Tuesday next, and earnestly invite the attention of all our friends throughout the county to them:

1st. See that the polls are opened in every district at the earliest hour named by law, and that they are kept open until the latest hour. The polls may be opened at any time from 8 to 10 o'clock A. M., and must be closed at 7 P. M. If full Boards are not present at 8 o'clock A. M., see that the vacancies are filled and polls opened at 9 o'clock A. M.

2d. Poll the Republican vote as early as possible in every district, keeping lists as nearly correct as practicable while the voting is going on, of all who have voted.

3d. Be prepared with full and perfect lists of the names of every Republican voter in the different districts, and not later than 3 o'clock, P. M., commence sending out and bringing in, and seeing that all Republicans vote whom your lists show have not yet been at the polls.

4th. Have competent and proper men in every district as challengers, and especially have numerous and efficient Block Committees, (and so arranged that they may be relieved from time to time,) who will be responsible for every Republican vote in their respective blocks and districts.

5th. Have our friends pay particular attention to persons offering to vote on naturalization papers, and especially to every person attempting to vote on a Luzerne county naturalization certificate, or on a naturalization certificate issued by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, and bearing date since the 1st day of September last.

6th. To avoid danger of colonization and of illegal voting by persons colonized, be especially careful in scrutinizing the papers of, and in looking to the assessments of all persons who have lately moved into the election district where they may offer to vote, and about whom and whose former residence little is known.

7th. Whenever an attempt is made to vote illegally, or a vote is cast by any person not having the proper papers and not a legal voter of the election district, have the offender promptly arrested.

8th. The following abstract as to qualifications of voters, proof age, &c., is ESPECIALLY commended to the attention of the voters:

QUALIFICATION OF A VOTER.

1. He must be a native or naturalized CITIZEN of the United States, of the age of TWENTY-ONE YEARS or more.

1. He must have resided in the State at least ONE YEAR, and in his election district at least TEN DAYS immediately preceding such election, and have paid, within two years, a STATE OR COUNTY TAX, which had been assessed at least ten days before the election.

EXCEPTION.—Persons VOTING ON AGE, (being under twenty-two years of age,) may vote without being assessed and without having paid such tax.

3. All persons citizens of the United States formerly qualified voters of this State, but who had removed therefrom and returned, and who have been duly assessed and paid taxes, as herein before indicated, are entitled to vote after six months residence in the State.

PROOF OF AGE.

Age may be proven by the oath of the person offering to vote, or by other legal evidence.

PROOF OF RESIDENCE.

Residence within the State may be proved in the same manner as age, but the fact of residence within his proper election district MUST BE PROVED by his own oath and the testimony of at least one qualified elector and competent witness. The residence must be bona fide and not simply for the purpose of voting. IN CASE OF REMOVAL within ten days before the election he may vote in the district from which he removed.

PROOF OF NATURALIZATION.

The only evidence of naturalization is the certificate thereof under the seal of a competent Court, produced to the election officers. ITS LOSS AND CONTENTS CANNOT BE PROVEN in any case.

EXCEPTION—Where a naturalized citizen shall have been a citizen and resident of the district where he offers to vote for at least ten years next preceding the election, his own oath (without production of any certificate) shall be prima facia evidence of naturalization.

IDENTITY.

Although the certificate is evidence of naturalization, yet the person offering to vote MUST, IF REQUIRED, PROVE BY LEGAL EVIDENCE (not his own oath) that he is the IDENTICAL PERSON named in such certificate.

PAYMENT OF TAXES

May be proved by the production of the receipt for the payment of the tax and oath of the person himself or other competent witness. If he fail to produce such receipt he must make oath to the payment of a tax. If required, the genuineness of the receipt must be proved.

OPPOSING EVIDENCE.

Evidence may be produced against any person claiming the right to vote, or to contradict the evidence in his behalf.

GENERAL MATTERS.

Any election officer or qualified elector has the right to CHALLENGE any person offering to vote; and, when objection is thus made, IT IS THE DUTY OF THE INSPECTORS TO REQUIRE SUCH PERSON TO PROVE HIS RIGHT TO VOTE. The testimony must be satisfactory to the Inspectors.

Where there are more names on a TICKET than there ought to be, the ticket should be rejected.

THE POLLS should be closed at the proper hour regardless of the fact whether or not all persons present have voted.

TEMPORARY ABSENCE on public business or in the military service does not disqualify a voter.

NAVIVE CITIZENSHIP must be proved, when such proof is required by either of the Inspectors or by any qualified voter.

THE MINOR CHILDREN OF PERSONS WHO WERE ALIENS, though born out of the United States, if dwelling within the United States at the time of the naturalization of their parents, become citizens by such naturalization of their parents. Proof of the fact, if required, must be made by the production of the certificate (or duplicate thereof) and evidence of identity as in other cases.

JUDGES AND INSPECTORS.

The Inspectors and Judges are required to meet before nine o'clock A. M., and each Inspector shall appoint one clerk. In case the person who receives the second highest number of votes for Inspector shall not attend, the person who receives the second highest number of votes for Judge shall act in his place. In case the person who received the highest number of votes for Inspector shall not attend, the person elected Judge shall appoint an Inspector in his place. In case the Judge elect shall not attend, the Inspector who received the highest number of votes shall appoint a Judge in his place.

If any vacancy shall continue in the Election Board for the space of one hour after the time fixed for opening the election, the voters present shall elect one of their number to fill such vacancy.

By order of the Committee,

RUSSELL ERRETT, Chairman.

JOHN H. STEWART, Secretary.

REGAINING THE "LOST CAUSE."

How it is to be Done Through Seymour and Blair—The Programme of the Rebel Democracy.

A leading Democratic politician of Virginia, and who, it is needless to add, was a General in the Confederate service, revealed a few days since, to a personal friend, the details of the rebel programme for restoring the "lost Cause," in the event of the election of SEYMOUR and BLAIR. A sense of public duty has led to its publication in the Cincinnati Gazette, and we lay it before our readers, inviting to it their serious attention. The writer says:

I asked him what the South would gain by the election of Seymour and Blair. He had apparently thought the subject well over before. His reply was earnestly and honestly given, and, therefore, seems to be significant enough to be of general interest.

HOW SEYMOUR WILL OVERTHROW THE STATE GOVERNMENTS.

"We consider the State Governments organized by the acts of Congress in the South contrary to the Constitution, and, therefore, illegal and void. Immediately after the inauguration of Mr. Seymour, the several Governors of the States reconstructed by the military power, most of whom have surrendered or been deprived of their offices under protest, will demand that the President shall reinstate them in authority. Mr. Johnson has, in his orders not long ago to the General in command in New Orleans, so prepared the way that Mr. Seymour's course will be plain. He will give the rightful Governors military protection, and the old State governments will be re-established."

THE FOURTEENTH AMENDMENT TO BE DEFEATED.

"It then follows, that if these States, reconstructed by Congress, and which have adopted the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution, were illegal, their adoption of that amendment was also illegal and of no effect. Therefore, the Fourteenth Amendment fails for want of a sufficient number of States, to ratify it. This will be a great point gained."

It is remarkable how closely this coincides with what ex-Senator Pugh, of Ohio, said previously to the late State elections:

"I would not give them a three cent postage stamp for their Fourteenth Amendment. It is not part of the Constitution, and it never will be. It is a base fraud, and I say, as Frank Blair said, these carpet-bag governments must be overthrown."

NEW ELECTIONS UNDER THE OLD ORDER OF THINGS.

"We shall then," continued the General, "go on and hold our elections under the old order of things. Elect our Legislature, send our representatives to Congress, and elect United States Senators."

"But will the Republican Congress admit them?"

"We think that under the pressure of public opinion expressed in the Democratic victories the Republican minority will not dare to refuse them their seats, for to do so would mean revolution."

"Suppose those already elected to Congress refuse to give away, and retain their seats?" I asked.

ASSASSINATION TO BE USED.

"They will not dare or attempt to do so," he replied. "The will of the Southern people cannot be trifled with. The lives of such usurpers would pay the forfeit of their territory."

HOW THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY WILL BECOME POPULAR.

The General continued: "After the Democrats obtain the ascendancy in Congress they will fortify themselves in the hearts of the people by retrenching—by taxing the bonds and having the same currency for all. They will repeal the bounty and pension laws enacted by the Republicans. It is proper that each State should pension its own dependents, and we at the South are not going to reward our invaders."

A Distinguished Democrat's Compliment to the Germans.

In a speech delivered at Centralia, Ill., Mr. Pendleton says: "Go to Germany and ask those diligent men who come to this country to plow your prairies and build up your States—look at those who day by day, in the city of New York, land from the emigrant ships—look at their emaciated bodies, their skeleton-like figures, their forms barely covered with decency, and ask them what is a public debt."

On this the Cincinnati Volksblatt remarks:

"Could it be possible that a man, who owes so considerable a portion of his wealth to the Germans, could speak in so contemptible a manner of his benefactors? What has made Mr. P. a millionaire? The Germans, especially those of North Germany, who either bought or leased of him the land, which his grandfather bought for a trifle, for heavy sums of money, and built houses thereon. Could they have done all this if they had arrived here as emaciated, starved skeletons, with not so many clothes on their bodies as to be covered decently? Has Mr. P. ever seen those mostly well-clad and well-fed passengers of a German emigrant ship—has he ever asked a German emigrant what is a public debt? We wager he has never done either the one or the other, for if he had done so, he would not have said such preposterous and insulting things about them.

"These German emigrants are no such paupers as Mr. P. represents—for it is proved by statistics that every one of these emigrants bring to this country, besides their clothes and labor, an average of $20 in gold per head; now, if we will take the German emigration to this country to be only 250,000, this would increase the national wealth to the amount of about $5,000,000 a year in gold. And these Germans do not emigrate because the German national debt has oppressed them, they come, for the most part, from such parts of the country where there is not only no public debt, but a surplus of many millions in the treasury, as for instance the Electorate of Hesse. What drives them away is the enormous taxes they have to pay and services they have to render to support costly courts, large standing armies, and a large aristocracy; in short, for the support of just such a state of affairs as Mr. P. (whether with or without his knowledge) wishes to introduce in the South."

An Anecdote of General Grant.

Dear Sirs: At this time, when the opponents of General Grant are charging him with being ambitious, and only striving to gain the Presidential chair to assume a military dictatorship, I wish to relate an incident in the early military career of General Grant, which fully illustrates all his subsequent course:

When the Twenty-first Illinois Infantry, which had become unmanageable by their first appointed Colonel, was placed under the command of Col. Ulysses S. Grant, and ordered to Quincey to take part in the campaign in Northwest Missouri, it was my fortune to make the greater part of the march with Col. Grant and his command. On going into camp about six miles from Springfield, at the close of the first day's march, the men, after stacking arms, and while awaiting the arrival of the wagons, scattered and invaded the gardens of the citizens living in that vicinity. It was but a few moments before a lady presented herself to the group of officers gathered around Grant, and inquired for the Colonel. Col. Grant, who was reclining on the ground, at once arose to his feet and asked her errand.

"Colonel, your men are taking all my onions, radishes, peas, beets, &c., and I wish you would have them stopped."

"I will. Adjutant, call the officer of the day." When that officer came forward, Colonel Grant said: "Captain take a squad of men and arrest all men found in the neighboring gardens, and bring them to camp." The order was promptly executed and soon the officer returned, having under guard some six or eight men.

"What were you doing in those gardens?"

"Why, Colonel," said the spokesman of the party, "I didn't know it was against orders to go in there."

"If you had been a citizen passing along this road, would you have thought you had any right to go into one of those gardens and have taken what you wanted?"

"No, sir."

"Well, then, learn now and forever, that you have no rights as a soldier that you do not possess as a citizen. Captain, tie those men up to a tree for one hour.

REV. CHARLES THOMAS LONGLEY, D. D., Archbishop of Canterbury, the highest dignitary in the Church of England, is dead. He was the fifth son of the late John Longley, Esq., Recorder of Rochester, and was born in 1794. He was educated at Oxford, where he was distinguished as a classical scholar. He entered the Church, and was appointed Bishop of Ripon in 1836. In 1856 he was transferred to the See of Durham; in 1860 he was made Archbishop of York, and in 1862 was elevated to the position which he held at the time of his death.

GEN. GRANT makes this commentary on the Camilla massacre:

"Charley, when the people make me President, you and the people may be assured that all men will be permitted to speak their honest convictions, wherever they may be, within the boundaries of the United States."

Now what does Seymour say about it?

SEYMOUR, when in New York, charges the Republican party with the high price of corn and pork. In Columbus, Ohio, he holds it responsible for the decrease in prices of all articles of food.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The Independent is still discussing the question of female suffrage. Not long since it protested against the action of a Congregational church for denying the right of suffrage to women, and claimed that the Constitution of that body did not exclude them from the privilege of voting, and that it was an unwarranted assumption by that congregation. In the discussion of this question, in reference to suffrage in the Presbyterian Church, in its last issue, it contends that there is nothing in the Presbytorian Form of Government that limits or defines it, but the elective franchise rests upon the same basis in in respect to both sexes. It further declares that upon an examination of the acts and deliverances of the General Assembly, there is not a solitary decision adverse to the doctrine of female suffrage in the Presbyterian Church. The South Presbyterian church, under the pastoral care of Dr. Spear, one of the special contributors to the Independent, has adopted the system of rotation in the elders and deacons, and holds annual elections to fill the vacancies which occur in these boards. In this church the female members vote for church ...cers without any restraint by usa... the belief that it is in accord... Presbyterian order. Dr. ...ast annual election, took oc... express his opinions upon this ..., showing that female suffrage in Church was in accordance with Presbyterian polity. Reference was made by us at the time, to women having voted at the election of Trustees of a Brooklyn Methodist church. At the last General Conference in Chicago, when the question of taking the vote of the membership on Lay Representation was before that body, quite a spicy discussion sprang up on the proposition to amend the report by striking out "male," which would place both sexes on the same basis. The amendment prevailed, and in a matter, too, which affects the organic structure of the Polity of the Church. This question seems to be gradually assuming a status that must require action. The party of Progress in the various denominations will press this matter to a solution.

The United Presbyterian Synod of Pittsburgh held its annual session at Indiana, Pennsylvania, October 20th. After a sermon by the retiring Moderator, Rev. D. W. Collins, Rev. J. C. Campbell, of Paris, Pa., was elected Moderator, and Rev. Byron Porter Assistant Clerk. The reports of the various Boards showed much that was encouraging, but disclosed the fact of much neglect in the matter of responding to the demands of the General Assembly. The Presbyterial reports indicated increased activity, throughout the Synod, in the work of repairing and rebuilding houses of worship. Among the resolutions adopted was one condemning the use of tobacco, and recommending the members of the Synod, and all persons under its care, to abandon its use, and urging all to exert their influence in driving the filthy and demoralizing curse from the community. The next meeting of the Synod will be held in the Second United Presbyterian Church of this city the third Tuesday of October, 1869.

The Rev. E. W. Parker, returned Missionary of the M. E. Church from India, in an address at the Massachusetts Methodist State Convention, in Boston, some days since, stated that in India, if people do not go to church, the missionary goes to them. The farmers all live in villages, and the missionaries go out, taking the native Christians with them, and sing and pray, and preach. They put their bedsteads out of doors during the day. On these they sit and hear preaching. They also go to the fairs and preach. The Hindoos hold what might be called camp meetings on the Ganges. He said he never saw less than six hundred thousand people at one of these meetings; at one he saw seven millions; which must be taken as an incredible computation. The missionaries preach sometimes in carts.

A correspondent of the Watchman and Reflector (Baptist) maintains that without close communion "there is no longer any occasion for maintaining Baptist churches."

The one hundredth anniversary of Old John street M. E. Church, New York, the "cradle of Methodism" in America, took place on Sunday, the 25th. Over fifty ministers were present. Bishop Janes preached, and addresses were afterwards delivered by Dr. Abel Stevens, the historian of Methodism, President Roberts, of the Republic of Liberia, and by other distinguished persons. Two nephews of Philip Embury, the builder and first pastor of the the Church, and a great grandson of Barbara Hick, who urged Embury to preach on his arrival in this country, were present. The identical bible used by Embury in the first preaching service was used by the Bishop, and at the evening service the identical candlesticks owned by Barbara Hick, and used by her in lighting the old church, stood upon the altar.

A General Conference of the Mormon Church was held early in the month in the great Tabernacle, Salt Lake City, Utah, at which some grave topics were discussed. We refer to the matter here, not because we regard it, strictly speaking, proper for this place, but to show what this great "apostacy" or so-called Church, are doing. Among the principal topics was whether Mormons should any longer patronize business houses under the control of "Gentiles." It was finally decided that the commercial intercourse with the Gentiles should be restricted to the necessities of the Mormons. During the Conference the statement was made that during the last winter and spring the sum of seventy thousand dollars was contributed to aid immigrants coming to Salt Lake from Europe. Brigham Young thinks the Pacific Railroad the grandest thing that had ever been put into operation for Utah. George A. Smith was elected to the first Presidency of the Mormon Church, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Heber C. Kimball. Smith is a cousin of the original "Joe Smith," and has been Church historian and one of the "Twelve Apostles." Brigham Young, Jr., was chosen to fill the Apostleship made vacant by the promotion of Smith.

At a late meeting held in New York to take steps to extend evangelical efforts in Spain, Bishop McIlvaine of the Episcopal Church, Bishop Janes of the Methodist Church, Dr. Buddington of the Congregational Church, Dr. De Witt of tha Reformed (Dutch) Church, and Dr. Prime of the Presbyterian Church, occupied seats on the platform and participated in the exercises.

Princeton College.

"The College of New Jersey" is now 12 years old, if we reckon from the date of its first charter, which was not regularly accepted. The Rev. Jonathan Edwards was its first President, when the College buildings were at Elizabethtown. He died in 1747, and the new charter was granted in the following year, when the College was removed to Newark, and the Rev. Aaron Burr became its President. He was the son-in-law of Jonathan Edwards, and father of Aaron Burr, a graduete of the College, and at one time Vice President of the United States. In 1756 the College was removed to Princeton. This was during Gov. Belcher's administration; and it was proposed to call the main building by his name, but the Governor modestly declined the honor, and the hall, at that time the largest building in the country, named Nassau Hall, in honor of King William III. During the Revolution Nassau Hall was used alternately by the British and the Patriots as a hospital, and to this day it bears more than one mark of the deadly struggle in which the contending forces engaged within easy rifle range of its peaceful walls. At the time of the battle of Princeton a portrait of George II. hung upon the wall of the old chapel, now a part of the Library. When the fray was at its height a cannon ball crushed through the building, tearing His Majesty's likeness out, but leaving the frame uninjured. Six years afterward the Continental Congress sat in the second story of the building. The commencement exercises of the College were then being held, and Doctor Ashbel Green, afterwards President of Princeton (1813–23,) was the Valedictorian. All the members of the Continental Congress were present, and among them sat George Washington. To him turned the young speaker, and in a burst of fervid eloquence which electrified the assemblage, gave thanks to the great warrior whose valor and wisdom were soon to make him the idol of the world. This, it is said, was the only time General Washington was ever known to be present at a college commencement. Shortly after the memorable occurrence recorded above, by request of the Board of Trustees, Washington sat for his portrait, and it now graces the south wall of the Library, inclosed in the self-same frame which once held the portait of his Britannic Majesty, George II. The artist, the elder Peale, introduced into the picture a portrait of General Mercer, of Virginia, who was mortally wounded at Princeton—a portrait remarkable from the fact that the artist had never seen the original, but painted it from General Mercer's brother. In the back ground of the painting is a glimpse of the battle and a view of the College, near it one of those glassy streams that in their brilliant path mirrored the desperate strife that helped to set a nation free and win a rescued world; that viewed the deeds of men who live in grateful hearts; that laved their bleeding limbs, and hymned their requiem.

Nassau Hall burned down in March, 1802, and was rebuilt, the old walls still standing. Again, in March, 1855, it fell before the flames, but the old walls remained firm, and it is now, though very plain indeed, a solid pile that may stand for centuries.

Dr. Edwards was succeeded in the Presidency by his son-in-law, Dr. Aaron Burr, in 1848. After him came Dr. Samuel Davies and Dr. Witherspoon, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, a native of Scotland, elected just a century ago. Then came Dr. Smith, Dr. Ashbel Green. Dr. Carnahan and Dr. McLean—the last four regular graduates of the College. Dr. McLean, before his resignation, at the last commencement, had been for fifty years connected with the institution, and for his support the trustees have recently made ample provision.

Among the graduates of Princeton were Richard Stockton, one of the signers; James Madison, fourth President of the United States; Dr. J. Addison Alexander, the great linguist and commentator; Luther Martin, Brockholst Livingstone, Samuel L. Southard, Benjamin Rush, David Ramsey, Nicholas Biddle, Theo. Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey; Berrien, of Georgia; Governor McDowell, of Virginia; Tapping Reeve, of Connecticut; Justice Wayne, of the Supreme Court, and a host of others whose names are known all over the land and far beyond it. Among those who have been and are Professors in the institution, I may name Prof. Henry, of the Smithsonian Institute; Dr. Torrey, the botanist; Prof. Dodd, the mathematician; Dr. Jas. W. Alexander; Prof. Stephen Alexander, the astronomer, and Prof. Guyot, now Professor of physical geography and geology at Princeton.

At one time, about thirty-five years ago, one-sixth of the Senators of the United States were alumni of Princeton. Up to that time one-third of the chief law officers of the Government, and one-fifth of the members of the Supreme Court, were also her children. Her record as an educational institution is one of which the whole country should be proud. Beside what she has done for the world in furnishing teachers for her own classes she has sent out a noble host to other temples. She has supplied 30 College Presidents, and nearly 100 Professors in Colleges, Theological Seminaries and Law Schools. She has fitted 50 Senators for their duties as Representatives of a free people. More than 20 foreign Embassadors have called her alma matre; eight Judges of the Supreme Court owe much of their fame to her care, and nearly 30 Governors of States have acknowledged their indebtedness to her.

It is a fact not generally known that the first Professor of Anatomy in this country was a graduate of Princeton. I mean Dr. William Shippen, of Philadelphia. The first medical diploma ever given in the United States was given to another Princeton graduate—Dr. John Archer, of Maryland, in 1768. He won it at the Medical School of Philadelphia, in which Dr. Shippen was for many years an honored teacher. Princeton sent forth warriors too, and more than one of her sons were struck down within sight of the roof under which he had learned his best lessons of patriotism. When the great rebellion broke out, she sent her quota with the rest.

Frank Preston Blair was one of her children, but like Aaron Burr, another, he has not held to the promise of his youth, nor has he followed the teachings of his early guide. Gen. Gansevoort—he who hunted Moseby—was another; and the lamented young Hugh Janeway, twelve times wounded, and killed at last just before the rebel hordes came under the yoke; and brave Tolles, of the Sixth Corps, whom a rebel bullet carried off when Sheridan rode down to Winchester town; and a hundred others, not known to fame, but brave men all, whose memories shall never die. All these, and more, old Princeton mourns to-day.—Tribune.

RIVER NEWS.

—The steamer Henry Adkins has passed Omaha on her return from the mountains.

—It is reported that the Great Republic, will soon be sold at public auction at St. Louis.

—The city of Aurora, Indiana, has donated $500 to the proposed Ohio river Congressional excursion.

—Samual Startzman, the famous builder, has received the contract for building the Government snagboats and tenders.

—A telegram was received at Cincinnati on Wednesday, from Nashville, announcing four feet on Harpeth Shoals, and rising.

—The Silver Heel lies in 20 feet water. She was insured in the Enterprise Company, of Cincinnati, for $2,700. Capt. Geo. W. Neare is at the wreck.

—The Alice V, is being dismantled and torn to pieces at Madison. Her bell is to be placed in the cupola of the new high school building, at that place.

—The Cora S, which recently sunk in the Arkansas river, has been raised and arrived at Memphis, Tuesday night. A side dock will be put under her hold while being repaired. In the meantime she will receive a cargo of cotton for Cincinnati. She will probably leave Memphis Friday or Saturday.

—The Parkersburg Times, of the 26th, says: The work on the railroad bridge across the Ohio river is being continued vigorously; the low stage of the water is very favorable to the operation. We are informed that one hundred more hands were added to the working force on Saturday last. The work is to be pushed forward with unabated vigor.

—The steamboat Lilly, en route to the Mountains, with $80,000 worth of flour and other commissary stores belonging to the government, has been sunk high up the Missouri river. She struck a snag, and is a total loss. She was worth $20,000, and was insured for $6,000 in Cincinnati and Eastern offices. Her cargo was consigned to the Indian Agent at Fort Sully, and is not insured. The boat belonged to Captain Tyler, of St. Louis:

—The Gen. Quitman, sunk recently, was built at Louisville, Kentucky, December, 1859, for John Cannon and others; measures 844 tuns; carries 1,000; length, 200 feet; breadth, 40 feet; depth, 8½ feet; draws light, 5 feet; seven boilers 30 feet long, 38 inches diameter; two cylinders, 10 feet stroke, 30 inches diameter; water wheels, 37 feet diameter; machinery new. Survey August, 1865, after she was almost rebuilt, at a large expenditure, and she was declared a first-class steamer for the Lower Mississippi trade. The Vicksbnrg Times says: The Magenta passed her about 12 o'clock, and her officers report the Quitman then as having the ladies' cabin under water, and her bow resting on the bank. Her cotton was floating off, and the crew were engaged in saving what they could from the vessel. The Quitman was owned by Mrs. Stout, Capt. T. P. Leathers, and other parties. She was valued at $75,000.

THE REBEL DRUM-BEAT.

The lost cause is regained in Louisiana! Thanks to that arch-traitor, ANDREW JOHNSON, whose double treason—as a citizen to his country and as an Executive to the oath in which, with maudlin incoherence, he swore fidelity to the Constitution and the laws—culminates at last in the revolutionary and bloody overthrow of a lawful government which he dared to denounce to an American Congress! Thanks to that Democratic party which made haste to grovel on its belly before the red-handed rebels at New York, and to volunteer itself, and its poor tools of candidates, as the advocates of a fresh Anarchy, and the willing mummers in a new Carnival of Murder! Thanks to that detestably vile and wicked spirit of partizanship which prefers the wreck of a mighty Republic to the sublime apotheosis of Human Freedom and of Universal Liberty! Thanks to the misplaced linity of a great people, which completed its victories over armed treason by that too merciful conquest of its own vengeance, which has not made treason odious nor taken the justly forfeited lives of the disarmed traitors! And, with these thanks, let us more fervently and earnestly thank the Almighty Ruler of Nations that His mercy permits the wretched consequences of our wrong—in that we have thus failed to visit upon the enemies of our Nation those penalties which they had richly earned—to be manifest not too late, but even now when His mercy also gives to us the place, the hour, and the man needed for those works which shall show our sense of His chastisement, and that we have turned again to our duty!

For, what God-fearing citizen of these States—once peaceful and happy as they were, once bleeding and war-stricken in the struggle of a Nation for its life, and now, for four weary years, slowly groping in its upward path to the old peace and prosperity of the Republic's first seventy years—can look back upon all the miseries our people have endured, upon the precious blood with which half a continent was watered, upon the three hundred thousand graves which cover the blood-offering for the nation's redemption from sin and shame, upon the final triumph which Loyalty hoped to have won, and upon the shameful mockery in high places, which has thus far seemed to have turned the rich fruits so dearly purchased to Dead Sea apples at our lips—who, we ask, who that has the soul of a freeman and the right arm of a true man, can look back upon the past, and around him upon what this day exhibits, in that rebel-accursed land of the South, without recording in his heart, and before God, the solemn vow that hereafter Mercy shall wait on Justice, and that the last traitor shall be pursued to his just atonement?

The New Rebellion lives, and Loyalty is hunted to its death, in ten States of the Union. And now Louisiana, the first of these, leads in the open and organized inauguration of the threatened revolution. New Orleans maintains her bloody preeminence in the infernal work, while throughout that State, from the Capital city to its remotest parish, the law is defied, its officers are hunted into hiding-places, its friends are robbed and murdered, and the old rebellion once more walks abroad master of the situation.

Men and brethren! the time has come for all of us to address ourselves to the work of upholding the old flag again, not with the traitor hand of a ROUSSEAU, nor at the traitor bidding of ANDREW JOHNSON, but against all rebels, from the Capital to the Gulf. Read the tidings from Louisiana! Did you think that you conquered a peace at Appomatox? You did not know the traitors in your own midst. Did you think your Constitution, embodying the nation's power, gave you the right to impose terms upon the rebels lying under your feet? You little knew how soon the bullet of an assassin, and the treason for which it straightened a way, could dash all these just hopes from your sight. Did you suppose that your Congress had the power to make laws for the pacification of those territories which your sacrifices conquered? You forgot how much depended upon the devilish wickedness of the man appointed for their execution.

You conquered one rebellion, and you took wise order for all its consequences. You assumed your rightful powers, exercised them moderately, and it seems, too mercifully. Awaiting results, you were warned, months ago, that the rebellion, still living, denied all your rights, defied your authority, and in its own hour would trample both, stricken and bleeding, in the dust. You heard this warning, not only from your own friends, but even from the audacious conspirators who dared to proclaim it in your own midst. Do you believe it now?

Months ago, you were told to hearken for the drum-beat of the Second Rebellion in arms. New Orleans sounded the long-roll three days since, and nothing but God's mercy can save this land from being soon all over aflame.

And your duty? FIRST, next Tuesday's vote! THEN, what God sends! Be sure you do it!

TO ELECTION BOARDS AND CHALLENGERS.

Our election officers all know that amply satisfactory evidence is before the country, of the existence of illegal papers purporting to be certificates of naturalization, and to be issued from the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia, from the State Courts of New York city, and from the Probate Courts of Sandusky, Ottowa, Logan, Franklin and Richland counties in Ohio, all bearing date in September and October, 1868. Judicial investigations, as you are all aware, have already established the fact that an indefinite number of such fraudulent papers, the lowest estimates computing the total at over twenty thousand, have been put in circulation for the purpose of controling the November election by fraud.

You clearly understand that one result of those investigations is naturally to drive the holders of such papers to seek distant localities, in the hope of being able to use them with impunity. You are advised that the presentation of such papers, having their origin as above, at the election places in Western Pennsylvania on Tuesday, will materially strengthen the prima facie case of fraud. It is our duty, therefore, to remind you that your acceptance of such papers, alone and unsupported by other satisfactory proof of the citizenship of the person challenged, will be regarded by your fellow-citizens as a proof that your judgment is too weak for your important office, or else that you are yourselves willing to connive at fraud.

Our Challengers are especially instructed to let no case of this kind pass by without insisting upon the fullest investigation. If any wrong be committed, see that you have it fixed, so that it will stay, upon the guilty party, whether that be the voter or the election officer, or both. Make the record on the spot, witnesses and all, and the law will in due time take proper care of it and of its engineers. Do you do your duty, vigilantly and fearlessly, and you can shut off a large percentage of the Democratic recruits on the threshold,

We give much space to this matter, and you should devote to it an equal attention, because in these frauds are embodied the last and only Democratic hope of success.

THEY PLEAD FOR LIFE:

A Republican meeting at Galveston, Texas, implores "the attention of the entire country to the condition of that State, the sufferings and wrongs of the Unionists." They petition Congress for its immediate action in their behalf, and especially for the establishment of some military government which shall give them protection for their lives. And thus, all over the Southern and comes up from every loyal lip the same despairing entreaty for what ought to be every American citizen's birth-right, the protection of the law. Union men of Pennsylvania, honest men, law-abiding men, no matter what your politics have been, can you hear this cry of your menaced, hunted and outraged countrymen in those States, and refuse to them your voice for protection and peace? If you but knew the half of the miseries endured in the late rebel States, by citizens whose only offense is that they love the Union better than any fragment of a divided land, and should still maintain that these were "Radical lies to influence the election," you will come to realize, before the sun of next April shines upon the Presidency of HORATIO SEYMOUR, that, in closing your ears and hardening your hearts to their appeals for help, your own consciences are burthened with the guilt of all the innocent blood which shall water the wretched South.

THE LIGHT OF EXPERIENCE.

It should be remembered that this business of frauds upon the suffrage is no new thing with the Democracy. They played the same game in 1864, when the State Agents, appointed by HORATIO SEYMOUR himself, were arrested, tried, and most of them convicted for attempting a stupendous fraud upon the Soldiers' vote of that State. The principal Agent, Colonel NORTH, only escaped conviction because the proof, unfortunately, failed to show that he actually knew what was going on in the back room of his own office. And so failed a very pretty Democratic plot to turn over the entire soldier-vote of New York to MCCLELLAN, under fraudulent certificates. Shall their game of fraud win this time?

FAIR WARNING TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

In the United States Circuit Court at New York, on Wednesday last, the Grand Jury were charged by Judge BENEDICT with the investigation of the notorious frauds committed in that district against the Naturalization laws. The Jury were instructed that the Act of 1813 is still in force, and that its penalties apply to "any one who forges or counterfeits any certificate or evidences of citizenship, or procures it to be done, or any person who passes, utters or uses as true any such paper." The charge also proceeded: "The action of the naturalizing Court only admits the person who is present before it, and to him alone can the certificate of citizenship be issued. Therefore any one who has issued certificates of citizenship to any person other than the one who appeared before and was admitted by the Court, is liable to indictment under the act as if he had forged the certificate." And, furthermore: "Inasmuch as the proceeding is taken under the provisions of the laws of the United States, the oaths which are required to be taken are such as if taken falsely subject the parties to the penalties of perjury under the United States laws, to be enforced by the courts of the United States. Under the conspiracy clause of the Revenue act of 1867, if any persons have conspired together to procure the commission of any such violation of the law, they are all liable to indictment."

While there is no question as to the responsibility of such criminals to the Federal jurisdiction, this charge indirectly confirms the former suggestion, from this journal, that, in the absence of any State legislation to that end, this class of offenses, committed in Pennsylvania, must be remitted exclusively to the Federal Courts for punishment. But it is a source of some satisfaction to reflect that the Federal remedy exists unimpaired, that its scope is ample to reach all the offenders, whether in or out of office, and that a feeling has been awakened in all quarters of this Commonwealth, which is to be satisfied with nothing less than the completest vindication of the law. The movement of Justice may be slow, but its end will be sure.

Offenders who have illegally "issued certificates of citizenship" will do well to improve their present leisure in reflecting upon the penalties which await them. Their offenses are complete, cannot be recalled, and await only their exposure and atonement.

The person "who uses as true any such forged or counterfeited evidence of citizenship," at the polls on the 3d of November, is distinctly warned that he will do so at his peril. The election boards will first pronounce upon his case. Whatever the nature of his papers, any fraud therein vitiates them entirely. Challengers will be at hand to insist upon an ample investigation. The black-list, of Courts and of Judges who stand already impeached by public opinion for complicity in these frauds, is familiar to every citizen. All papers emanating from those sources will be rigidly scrutinized. The discovery of any guilty knowledge on the part of the person offering such fraudulent papers will be followed by his immediate arrest. Now, let us see, next Tuesday, how many such will be found willing to risk the punishment which will follow their detection.

This timely warning is addressed to every man who holds naturalization papers which he knows himself not legally entitled to. Let him beware of any attempt to vote upon them!

THE PROGRESS OF LIBERALISM.

For many ages the Conservatives had what they esteemed to be a good time over nearly all the world; that is to say, they held almost unbroken sway, and were commonly able to resist all the efforts of Radicals to change the established order of things. So far as they were personally concerned, their case was excellent. They sat in the high places of authority, imposed what exactions they pleased upon the people, enjoyed the honors and emoluments, and transmitted their prerogatives to their successors. If a doughty Radical ventured to question their authority, insisted that the masses had rights, gave voice to the aspirations of the special age for a better condition of affairs, and to organize the discontented with a view to extort compliance with their reasonable demands, he was quickly consigned to the living tomb of the dungeon, or sent from the scaffold to the realm of silence and the shadows of the dead.

This could not last, and, since the invention of printing, the Conservatives have been increasingly disquieted and perplexed. Strenuously as they have maintained the old night to be better than the new day, a spirit of disbelief in their inculcations has increased, until everywhere their claims are challenged, their principles derided, and power wrested from their grasp.

In England, while the Conservatives have not recently been confronted by revolutionary violence, they have experienced a steady and growing opposition, conducted in subordination to existing laws, which they find more difficult to deal with to their liking than they possibly might a direct appeal to arms. The canvass for the election of members to the new Parliament so clearly indicates the triumph of the Liberals that yesterday cable telegrams announced the names of the personages selected in advance for the chief posts in the new cabinet.

The success thus foreshadowed signifies a still farther curtailment of the prerogatives of the aristocracy, and an enlargement of the liberties exercised by the masses of the population. That the popular leaders will proceed cautiously cannot be doubted, for they are men of superior natural powers disciplined by long service, and adequate in all respects to any task that may be laid upon them by the progress of events.

Nor can it escape attention that Conservatism in Great Britain will thus be driven to the wall almost if not quite simultaneously with Conservatism in the United States. Separated by a wide ocean from actual contact, and by somewhat near a century from governmental connection, the European and American branches of the same stock seem to be keeping equal pace with each other in the work of political regeneration.

POLITICAL ESTIMATES.

At the elections named below, the aggregate votes cast by the Republicans and Democrats in Pennsylvania were thus:

1856, Oct.	Rep	210,111.	Dem	212,886
" Nov.	Rep	229,685.	Dem	230,710

Republican increase per cent. 9.30. Democratic increase per cent. 8.85.

1861, Oct.	Rep	254,878.	Dem	242,977
" Nov.	Rep	296,391.	Dem	276,316

Republican increase per cent. 16.30. Democratic increase per cent. 13.64.

1866, Oct.	Rep	307,224.	Dem	290,096
1868, Oct.	Rep	331,068.	Dem	321,391

Republican increase per cent. 7.61. Democratic increase per cent. 11.26.

The following table represents the increase per cent. in the vote of October, 1868, against the vote of October, 1866. A careful study of it will show that the efforts put forth by the Democrats this fall are without parallel in any former canvass, and that, taking former elections as the basis of calculation, the Republican majority will be over 25,000 on Tuesday next. Of course this presupposes that the Republicans work as intelligently and vigorously this year, between elections, as on former occasions:

SEYMOUR AND HIS FRIENDS.

Read one chapter from the history of the Democratic Riots in '63, and remember it next week:

Colonel O'Brien, who had charge of the troops throughout the early part of the day, incurred the deepest hatred of the mob. He was seized near his own house, and beaten and kicked in a horrible manner, so that he died in a few hours. It is said he used some harsh expressions toward the mob, and imprudently fired upon the crowd, but from the moment he was seized by the rioters they behaved toward him in a most inhuman and diabolical manner. He was knocked down, trampled under foot, beaten, kicked and clubbed for hours. The first blow was given at 2 P. M.—he did not die until 8 P. M. During all this time he was surrounded by the mob, who allowed none of his friends to approach him, and every groan, sigh and heavily-labored breath was answered with a kick or a blow. A humane druggist who approached with a cup of water was cruelly beaten and his store destroyed. When some of his neighbors turned away in disgust and horror, the cry was raised, "Kill them too; don't let's have any witness." Even the offices of religion were denied to the victim of their fury. Father Clowly, a Roman Catholic clergyman, who had witnessed the terrible scene, implored the mob for leave to administer the last Sacrament to the dying man. The priest argued, besought, he admonished. "The man is dying" he said, "he can never recover; you have done your worst; now let me remove the body and administer to him the last offices of our Church." The answer was, "You can do your office here; no one shall remove the man from where he lies." And there the priest gave him the Sacrament, and remained with him till he died. Even then the mob did not desist from its work of vengeance, and the poor clay that once contained a gallant spirit was zealously guarded by the infuriated throng. After he had been dead perhaps an hour, a new riot distracted the attention of the crowd, when Father Clowry had the body removed from where it lay, and decently prepared for burial. Thus ends the story of one of the most atrocious murders in the long and weary annals of crime—a murder unequalled in history as exhibiting the basest and most ferocious passions and the worst deeds of which men may be guilty.

The assaults upon colored people began almost simultaneously with the riots, and continued while the frenzy lasted. On the first day, besides the destruction of the Orphan Asylum, many colored men were beaten, some perhaps killed. On that day a colored man was caught in Clarkson street, near Hudson, and hanged to a tree, and a fire was kindled under his lifeless remains. The next day the outrages were continued upon this inoffensive people, and on the third day two other negroes were beaten to death and then hanged. These men had given no offense, and there was no reason for the crime except the malignant hatred of the mob toward the black skin. A poor old negro, compelled to move upon crutches, was turned out of his house by the rabble, and in all parts of the city these unfortunates were subjected to every species of outrage. The extent of their wrongs has never been told; nor will the story of their sufferings ever be fully known. It is of itself a chapter to make humanity shudder—a chapter, one would think, that would kindle indignation even in the outlaw's breast.

Neither is it possible within the limits of the present article to give anything like a complete account of the private residences that were pillaged and destroyed. Postmaster Wakeman's house in Eighty-sixth street was burned on Monday night, and an attempt was made on the following day to destroy the house of Mayor Opdyke. Plunder was one great object with the mob, and most of the dwellings upon which their wrath was visited were destroyed for the sake of pillage.

When all these outrages had been perpetrated, Gov. Seymour appeared at the City Hall and addressed the rioters as "friends." He knew then, as well as he knows to-day, the extent and character of their crimes. He was then as fully aware, as now, that there was no palliation or excuse for their offenses. A few days before he had himself excited the mob as equal in authority to the Government—his own words had encouraged the violence he now affected to deprecate. When Chief Engineer Decker appealed to the mob, then but two hours old, to desist from their violence, since they had accomplished their purposes in the destruction of the Provost Marshal's office, we can understand what he meant by addressing them as "fellow-citizens." When Father Clowry appealed to them in gentle language for the body of Col. O'Brien, since they had done their worst, we can respect the appeal. But when Gov. Seymour said "my friends," to the crowd of murderers and incendiaries, who had not yet ceased their wickedness, his words had a different significance. The rioters knew that he was one of them, who chose to work by different means from those which they employed, and his speech was in keeping with his tacit understanding between them. He had become their spokesman at Washington he told them—his demands in their behalf would be acceded to—the draft would be stopped. He might as well have said they had done their work nobly, and he would bear them their reward. The mob understood him to say this, and he knew that he was so understood. It was a fearful responsibility for any man to assume, and Gov. Seymour stands before the world the panderer to a murderous multitude.

In the riots, not fewer than 150 persons lost their lives. Other outrages followed after Gov. Seymour's speech as outrages had gone before. It was many days until the accustomed quiet was restored and the draft resumed. History will tell the story as a tale of wonder to the end. What we have told of it is necessary to a full understanding of the relations toward it of a man who now seeks to be President of the United States.

EDUCATIONAL.—It is reported that in the South the schools and colleges for both sexes are at present more numerously attended than in any previous year. At the University of Virginia there are over 500 students. At Washington College, over which General Lee presides, there are nearly 400, and at the Virginia Military Institute over 250. Emory and Henry opened its fall session with nearly 300. Hampden Sidney has nearly or quite 100. Randolph Macon at the latest accounts had about 75, and daily accessions were being made. Richmond College has largely over 100.

COUNSEL FOR THE CARELESS.

The body is a machine, and carelessness in its management is as sure to lead to evil results as carelessness in the management of a steam engine. Yet the last thing that most people think of is the protection of this delicate piece of the Creator's handiwork from the subtle causes of disease by which it is surrounded. It is no easy thing to repair the system when in ruins; but there is no difficulty in fortifying it against many of the dangers to which it is exposed. Guard against nervous debility. At the first symptom of this fore-runner of more serious ailments, sustain the flagging energies of nature with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Take it regularly and persistently, until bodily vigor is thoroughly restored. It creates an appetite, promotes—or, it might as properly be said compels—the complete digestion of the food, regulates the secretive action of the liver, tones and invigorates the bowels, improves the condition of the blood, and gives firmness to the nerves. Upon a system thus strengthened and regulated in all its important functions, the fogs and exhalations of autumn, pregnant with the elements of intermittent fever, can make little or no impression. Whoever supposes that fever and ague is an unavoidable evil in certain districts, at this season of the year, is egregiously mistaken. As effectually as a draught of cold air is shut out by the closing of a door, this complaint, and all disorders of a miasmatic type, may be prevented by the use of the BITTERS. When sickness can be avoided by a means so safe and simple, is it not the merest fatuity to neglect the proffered antidote? Regarded either as a preventive or a cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, intermittent fever, nervous disorders, general debility, or constipation of the bowels, this pure vegetable preparation stands alone.

DISEASED LUNGS.

There is no doubt whatever that diseases of the lungs, or ulcers of whatever sort, on any of the internal organs may be and are frequently cured, and a complete condition of health established. If the elaborative functions, of which the stomach is the primary and most important one, are restored to a condition to do the repairing of the human system, ulcers or sores, whether upon the lungs, the liver, the kidneys or the bowels, or upon the legs, as is frequently the case, can be made to heal, and a complete standard of health re-established.

We have frequently seen these results from the use of Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, a pleasant and agreeable medicine, which will ripen up and carry out the animal economy all effete and used up material. Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE is enriched by some of the most valuable plants and herbs known to be useful and curative in all deteriorated states of the human blood, and whilst it adds to its plasma, it at the same time stimulates, gently but effectively, the skin, the kidneys, the liver and the glandular system to sufficient action to enable the body to take on healthful action and eradicate the disease. Those sick and afflicted should bear in mind the virtues of this great medicine, and if those who are sufficiently alive to the importance of health, will resort to it in the beginning of a cough or cold, there would be no falling into declines and rapid consumption, so hopelessly incurable, and so most surely fatal. Let any one afflicted with any pulmonary disease try but one bottle, and they will be convinced of the value of Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure. Sold by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at Dr. KEYSER'S Great Medicine Store, 110 Wood St.

THE Mobile Register says: Six short years ago how deeply we were interested in the discussion of the Confederate debt, and the best measures of saving the government notes from becoming utterly worthless. Six short years have passed, and who thinks any longer of the Confederate debt? Six years more will place the Federal debt by the side of the Confederate, as Pitt slumbers by the side of Fox as the Federal debt never can be paid, it must necessarily be repudiated sooner or later.

IN REPLY to a serenade during a Republican jollification in Warren on Thursday evening, Judge Scofield stated that although this year's election was his fourth to Congress, the gentlemen around could bear witness that he had asked no man for the nomination. Assured of his own election, he made no effort for himself, but had worked with what ability he could for the Republican cause and the whole ticket. His majority in the District is about three thousand.

MR. JOHN QUINCY ADAMS, journeying homeward from the South, is reported to have said that "he condemned the platform of the Democracy more than the candidates." The remark is sensible and just. The candidates are as bad as candidates could be. One is weak, destitute of conviction, as infirm of principle as of purpose; the other is violent, ambitious, selfish and committed to a policy of revolution.

CITY OF ALLEGHENY, OCTOBER 30, 1868.

are now ready to negotiate a LOAN of

THIRTY THOUSAND DOLLARS

for the purpose of converting the COMMON GROUNDS of the city of Allegheny into PUBLIC PARKS.

Bonds for which will be issued in sums of bearing interest at the rate of SEVEN PER CENT. PER ANNUM, payable semi-annually in July and January; they will be made to mature in three, four, five, six, seven, eight and nine years, from NOVEMBER 15th, 1868, at the option of the purchaser.

These Bonds are issued in pursuance of authority granted by an act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, approved the 26th day of March, A. D. 1867.

The faith, credit and property of the city is pledged for their redemption, and for the interest accruing thereon, by Ordinance of the City Councils enacted into a law the 10th day of September, A. D. 1868.

SEALED PROPOSALS—Endorsed proposals for city will be received by the undersigned until 3 o'clock, P. M. on TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 10th for the sale of said bonds. Bidders are requested to state the price they are willing to pay for the bonds maturing as above.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

The gold market opened firm at 134⅜, advanced to 134⅝, and closed firm at 134⅛ to 134¼; the reaction from 134⅝ is due mainly to a better quotation of United States bonds in Europe, and the probability of light shipments of coin to pay for November coupons. Among business men who have to-day specie to cover the purchase of foreign goods, the opinion prevails that gold has touched its lowest point, and as soon as the Presidential election is over and business reopens, the purchase of gold for legitimate business will cause a sharp reaction in prices, gold being at present, comparatively speaking, the cheapest article on the market.

Bonds of the old issues opened strong at an advance of ¼ to ½ per cent.; towards noon the market was weaker, but at the close large purchases for speculotion and for European account advanced the market with little offering.

Stocks are better but quiet and steady. At the close there was a large demand for stocks, especially for Fort Wayne, Erie, Cleveland, North Western and Reading. The market closes with a general demand for stocks.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz: Gold, 134⅛; Eighty-one's, 115¼; Five Twenties, 1862, 113¼; do, 1864, 111⅛; do, 1865, 111¾; do, 1865, new, 110½; do, 1867, 111; do, 1868, 111⅛; Ten Forties, 106¼; Railroads—Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 87⅞; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 113⅝; Chicago & Rock Island, 105⅝; Chicago & North Western, 90¾; do Preferred, 91⅝; Michigan Southern, 86⅛; Reading, 98⅜; Erie, 41⅞; New York Central, 25½; Ohio & Mississippi Certificates, 31⅛; Western Union Telegraph Co, 36¼; Merchants Union Express Co., 21½. Mining shares—Quicksilver, 21.

—The New York Times, of Thursday, says: The "locking-up" process continued to-day, and the Bank of the Commonwealth was made the common sewer through which $2,400,000 in greenbacks were drawn from the other banks to be turned over to and to be locked up by the firm of brokers connected with the Erie Road, whose head is the President, Treasurer, Transfer authority, Broker and all hands of the Company. The money they have locked up for several days past is understood to be the proceeds of an excessive, not to say fraudulent, issue of Erie common stock, and the brazen assurance with which this scandalous affair is carried on by the chief official and broker of the Company, to the ruin of his own stockholders, is only qualified by the readiness of one of the National Banks of this city to do his bidding in the way of facilitating his gambling operations against the whole stock money markets by drawing from the other banks and locking up greenbacks. It was suggested to-day that Messrs. Fisk & Hatch, who kept one of their accounts with the Commonwealth, and the few other respectable depositors in the concern, may feel it due to their own credit and to a proper sense of fairness to the other banks, to withdraw all dealings from the bank. The particular firm named can well afford to do so, and it would redound to their already high standing to set the example of discountenancing this most scandalous and piratical abuse of the banking privilege.

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.: Gold, 134⅛; United States Sixes, 1881's, 115; 5-20's, 1862, 113¼; 5-20's, 1864, 111⅛; 5-20's, 1865, 111⅜; 10-40's, 106¼; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 101½; 5-20's, January and July, '67 110¾; '68, 111; June 7-30's, par less ¼; July 7-30's, do ¼; August 119; Sept., 119; Oct. 118¼; Union Pacific Railroad, 102; Central, 103.

PITTSBURGH METAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, October 30, 1868.

The market is quiet, but with very light supplies, prices are firm and well sustained. There is considerable inquiry for small lots of Foundry Irons, and commission men report that they have more orders than they can fill. The demand for mill iron is also fair, and as in the case of Foundry Irons, stocks of this kind are very much reduced.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, October 30, 1868.

There are no new or important features in the general markets worthy of special notice. Business, generally, continues dull and unsettled, which is owing almost entirely to a want of confidence in the future, and the doubt and uncertainty that prevails in regard to values. There is plenty of capital seeking investment, but, as already noted, the want of confidence keeps it locked up, and this, of course, contributes largely toward stagnating business, and until this obstacle is removed, there is but little prospect of any improvement.

APPLES—Continue to arrive freely, and while the market is dull, prices are unchanged, ranging from $2 to $3,50 per bbl, the latter figure only for choice.

APPLE BUTTER—Dull and unchanged at 75c, in kegs, and 80 to 85c, in crocks.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Is unchanged at $5,50.

BUTTER—The supply continues to keep up with the demand, and the market is quiet and unchanged at 30 to 35c for packed, and 38 to 40c for prime Roll.

CRANBERRIES—None in market.

CIDER—Is arriving freely, and while the market is well supplied, prices are unchanged at $6 to $8 per bbl, as to quality and size of barrel.

CHEESE—Is in steady demand at former prices.

HAY—Is dull with a drooping tendency; sales at Allegheny Diamond Scales of 62 loads at $25 to $37 per ton.

STRAW—Is in better demand, and higher; sales reported at $20 to $22.

ONIONS—Very dull with a large supply; we continue to quote nominally at $5,00 to $5,50 per bbl.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is scarce and in steady demand at $2,50. Timothy seed dull with small sales at $3. Clover seed small sales at $8.

DRIED FRUIT—Small sales of new crop peaches, (prime halves) at 17 to 18.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is dull and as the stock is pretty well reduced, the season being nearly over. Lard is scarce but lower, 19 to 19¼. Mess Pork, $30,50 to $31.

LARD OIL—Unchanged at $1,25 for No, 2, and $1,50 for No. 1.

FLOUR—Is dull and unchanged. Spring Wheat brands, $7,50, to $8 for fair to good, and $8,25 to $8,50 for choice. Winter Wheat Flour ranges from $9,50 to $10. Rye Flour $8,50. The Pearl Mill prices are for Extra Family in barrels, $9,90 and in sacks $9,60 per barrel; Double Extra Family in barrels $10,40. and in sacks $10,10 per barrel. City Mills quote prices as follows: Extra Family, in barrels, $9,80, and in sacks, $9,50; Double Extra Family, in barrels, $10,30, and in sacks, $10 per bbl.

WHISKY—Is in steady demand but unchanged; sales at $1,20 for Rectified, and $1,20 for Highwines.

GRAIN—The Grain market is so completely demoralized that it is almost impossible to give quotations. Wheat is dull and nominal at $1,85 to $1,90 for Red Winter. Oats dull with car load lots offering at 64 to 65. Corn also is dull but nominally unchanged; prime old $1,11 to $1,12 for round lots, and new at 85 to 90. Prime Penna. and Ohio Rye is quoted at $1,40. Barley is very dull and unsettled; we heard of a car load of Spring being offered at $2,10, with $2 bid.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, October 30, 1868.

CRUDE.

The market continues rather dull and weak, and compared with yesterday, prices have still further declined. We can report 1,000 bbls, on spot, at 11¾c; 1,000 do at 11¼- and 120 do at 11⅛c, and quotations may be fairly given at 11¾ to 11¾c, against 11¾c to 12c, yesterday, showing a decline of fully a quarter of a cent. It is very remarkable, that while Antwerp is better and advancing, the markets in this country are dull and drooping; heretofore, when there has been an advance in Europe, it was generally followed by an advance here, but this last movement seems to be an exception to the general rule.

REFINED.

The Refined market also showed symptoms of weakness to-day, being off fully half a cent, compared with yesterday, and late in the day the difference was reported still greater. Sale of 1,000 bbls, on spot, at 29c, and 1,500 do, same delivery and price. Towards evening the best offer that could be obtained was 28¾c. To-morrow being delivery day, an advance may possibly be established, as there are generally some shorts who are forced to buy.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Newspaper Consolidation.—The Presbyterian Witness, the United Presbyterian organ of Cincinnati, has been merged into the United Presbyterian of this city.

Went East.—Hon. E. M. Stanton left in the Philadelphia express, at five o'clock yesterday afternoon, for Philadelphia, where he is announced to speak this evening.

Union Township Vigilance Committee.—On our fifth page of to-day's paper will be found a list of the Vigilance Committee for this ward, who are expected to be at the polls early on Tuesday morning.

No Jury Trials.—Judge Sterritt, at the adjournment of the Quarter Sessions Court yesterday, discharged the jury until Monday, the 9th inst., consequently there will be no jury trials during the coming week.

Taken Over.—Thomas Hickey, sentenced for two years and six months for larceny, and John Conover, for horse stealing, sentenced for three years, were taken to the Penitentiary Thursday afternoon by the Sheriff.

Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth street, is the ladies emporium of fashion. It is to Pittsburgh what Stewart's is to New York. The quality of the goods sold at this establishment are such as to commend the house to all purchasers.

New Switch.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company have constructed a switch running their two tracks on Liberty street, at its intersection with Smithfield, into one, the single track extending from that point to the foot of Liberty street.

Pocket Picked.—Mr. Frank Smallwood called at the Mayor's office yesterday evening, and stated that his pocket had been picked while riding in the cars on the Panhandle Railroad, between this city and Steubenville. No clue to the thief.

Fined.—A teamster was arrested yesterday morning by one of the Allegheny police for violating a city ordinance by driving his wagon over the sidewalk in the Diamond. Mayor Drum fined him five dollars, upon payment of which he was discharged.

Miraculous Escape.—A man named Brown, brakesman on a coal train, miraculously escaped being crushed to death by being caught between two of the cars of the train on Liberty street, yesterday morning. As it was, he received very severe, but not necessarily dangerous, injuries.

Burglary.—The house of Mrs. Eliza Domes, an old lady, residing at No. 392 Penn street, was entered at an early hour yesterday morning and robbed of fifteen dollars, which had been placed in one of the drawers of the bureau, in a second story room. No clue to the thief.

Married.—Our esteemed fellow citizen James R. Clark, Esq., was united in marriage on Wednesday evening last at Washington, Pa., to Miss Laura B., daughter of C. M. Reed, Esq., of that borough. He and his bride have our hearty congratulations and best wishes for their happiness.

School Bell Broke.—The bell in the tower of the Second Ward School House, Allegheny, was dislodged from its position on Thursday morning by the giving way of the fastenings which held it in its place. Workmen are engaged in repairing the damage, and will have it righted in a few days.

Jumped the Track.—Yesterday afternoon about five o'clock, as the Wheeling express train was being made up at the Union Depot, the baggage car jumped the track while being backed toward the baggage room to receive its load. It was pulled on again in a few minutes, and caused but little delay.

Correction.—By a provoking typographical error, we were made to state in our notice yesterday of the Park Commission Bonds that the amount of the loan to be negotiated was three hundred thousand dollars. It should have been thirty-thousand, as those who read the Controller's advertisement would discover.

Bridge Improvements.—Workmen are engaged in tearing down the old bridge of the Steubenville Turnpike Company over Saw Mill Run, preparatory to the erection of a new and more substantial structure. In the meantime the private bridge of the Messrs Wood & Co. has been very courteously thrown open to the public.

Leg Broken.—Thursday afternoon a boy named John Winder, residing in East Birmingham, while attempting to get into an express wagon on Carson street slipped and fell, his left leg catching between the wheel and wagon bed, by which it was badly broken below the knee. The injured boy was about fourteen years of age.

Personal.—Mr. William Garrard, a gentleman of large personal acquaintance and one of the most experienced and obliging trimming and notion salesman of the city, will hereafter be found with the popular and well known house of Messrs. Dennison & Heckert, Fifth street. We congratulate the firm in the accession of his services.

If you would enjoy a fragrant Havana or delicious Cuba cigar drop in at John Megraw's headquarters for tobacco, snuff and cigars, No. 54 Hand street. No where else in the city can you be better pleased, for no where else is the stock larger or finer. A full line of cigar tubes and meerschaum pipes, of the best quality, at most reasonable prices. Dealers who buy to sell again dealt with liberally. s Desertion and Abandonment.—Robert Sample was arrested yesterday by officer Blondin, of Alderman McMaster's police, on an information for desertion and abandonment, preferred against him by his wife Margaret. The lady is about forty-two years of age and Robert has passed through eighteen summers. After a hearing he was committed to jail for trial. The parties hail from Wilkins township.

Missing Man.—Mr. Chas. W. Hand came to Allegheny City several days since from Indiana, to establish himself in business, since which time nothing has been heard of him. He is about twenty-two years of age, and had with him a considerable amount of money. It is feared by his friends that he has been foully dealt with. Any information concerning his whereabouts can be left at the Allegheny Mayor's office.

A Drink and Quarrel.—Yesterday morning a couple of men who had been drinking got into a quarrel in a saloon in the Allegheny Diamond, and adjourned to the street to settle the dispute. After they had been pummeling each other for a few minutes, officer Graham appeared on the scene and arrested them for disorderly condnct. The Mayor fined them each five dollars and costs, which they paid and were discharged.

Progressing.—The work of building the stone wall to support the embankment on the Panhandle Railroad, between Sawmill and Cork's Run, is progressing rapidly and will be completed in a short time. The wall is being built for the purpose of preventing land slides, which heretofore have been so frequent at these points. It is about two miles in length and constructed of the most solid masonry.

Pocket Book Lost.—Mr. James Skillon, a resident of the city, lost his pocket book yesterday, containing one hundred and thirty dollars. He states that he went into a grocery store on Penn street and made a purchase and in paying for the article left his pocket book lying on the counter. He had gone but a short distance from the store when he remembered the pocket book, and immediately returned and made inquiry about it, but "no one had seen it," and he has not seen it since.

THE COURTS.

Supreme Court.

FRIDAY, October 30.—Court met at ten o'clock, A. M. Present, Chief Justice Thompson, Judges, Read, Agnew, Sharswood and Mellon.

Johnson et al. vs. Cowan; Westmoreland county. Argued by Laird for plaintiff in error, and by Foster contra.

Henry et al. vs. Carson et al.; Westmoreland county. Argued by Cowan for plaintiff in error, and by Foster and Laird contra.

Steele vs. Lineberger; Armstrong county; Argued by Golden for plaintiff in error, and by Gilpin contra.

Ralston vs. Ralston, Armstrong co., argued by Golden for appellant, and by Stewart and Black contra.

Geo. A. Smith, Esq., of Fulton county, was, on motion of Hon. H. D. Foster, duly admitted and qualified to practice in this Court.

U. S. District Court—Judge McCandless.

Court met at ten o'clock yesterday morning, when the case of Simmonds vs. Mary A. Sands, in bankruptcy, which has been on trial for several days past was resumed. It has not yet been concluded.

The following petitions for final discharge were filed: Charles Itzel, Northumberland county; J. K. Supplee, of Union county; Daniel B. Riber, of Union county. The usual orders were made.

Court of Quarter Sessions.—Judge Sterritt.

The Court of Quarter Sessions met at the usual hour yesterday, Judge Sterritt on the bench. The following business was transacted:

FEROCIOUS DOG.

Polycarp Miller was indicted for keeping a ferocious dog, Matthew Kimling appearing as prosecuting witness. The jury found a verdict of not guilty, and directed the costs to be divided equally between the defendant and prosecutor.

PLEAD GUILTY OF MISDEMEANOR.

Edward Smith, indicted for committing a felonious assault and battery upon Henry Shultz, plead guilty to unlawfully wounding the said Shultz. Sentence deferred.

A PLEA OF NOLE CONTENDRE.

Officer Charles O'Donnel was indicted for committing an assault and battery upon Graften Burbridge, colored. It appears that in September last a crowd of boys, Burbridge among the number, assembled in the vicinity of Fort Maloney, and were acting disorderly. Burbridge was arrested by officer O'Donnel. At the hearing before the Mayor it was shown that Burbridge was not engaged in the affair, and he was discharged. On the day following the charge was instituted against the officer by the boy's stepfather. The defendant entered a plea of nole contendre. Sentence deferred,

ALLEGED EMBEZZLEMENT.

John J. Voltz was indicted for embezzling $37,50 from the Goethe-Vereins No. 1, of the Fourth ward, Allegheny. The defendant was Treasurer of the Association, and while acting in that capacity, a dispute arose between the parties which resulted in a division of the Association. Defendant took sides with one of the factions, and when a demand was made for the money by the other parties, he refused to hand it over.

It appears that the defendant had proffered to pay to the dissenting parties the amount of money they had paid in, but refused to turn over that portion paid by the members with whom he was acting. The case was submitted without argument, and under the charge of the Court the Jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

NOT FEROCIOUS.

The next case taken up was the Commonwealth vs. Edward Hays, Nicholas Snyder prosecutor. The parties reside near the Sharpsburg bridge. It was alleged by the prosecutor that the defendant's dog bit his little son Frank. The boy, who is about nine years of age, was called by the prosecution, but the Court refused to allow him to be sworn. His statement was taken, however, from which it appeared that the dog bit him. The defense held that if the defendant did not know the dog to be ferocious and furious he could not be convicted. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty, and the prosecutor and defendant each to pay one-half the costs.

The Court then discharged the jury until Monday, November 9th.

All Hallow E'en.

Though generally supposed to be the eve of all saint's day, must certainly be most especially under the protection of the trickiest and jolliest of the blessed fraternity; a very Puck, fond of wrenching off bell pulls, beating down doors, eating of apples and nuts, and drinking of fresh cider. Such a saint, if saint he really be, used to, and indeed does yet, receive due homage on each recurring anniversary. Even the ghosts are said to flock about dark cellars and deserted graveyards in his honor: and he who, armed with some dark tale of diablerie, will go alone into a lonely city of the dead, and there, by the flickering light of a lamp, read, is brave enough to be generally acknowledged to be deserving of the fairest of the fair. To-night uncertain fate busies herself with the twirl of an apple paring, or the tallow in a candle. Shy fortune to-night alone consents to be prevailed upon to open the vista of years, and wary batchelors will bury their faces in the bed clothes for fear the tricky goddess carries it off and shows it as that of the future husband of some curious maiden, who, candle in hand, goes backwards down the cellar stairs. Boys delight in "Holloweve." Cabbage stalks are in great demand, cliques of the rising generation plot on the street corners, and woe to the man who has a reputation for crustiness or meanness among them, for all his wiles can scarcely save him from their vengeance to-night.

Alleged False Pretense.

Bernard Rudolph was arrested yesterday by Alderman Donaldson's police, on an information for false pretense preferred against him by Arthur Ehrenburg, a grocery and saloon keeper doing business in McKeesport. The allegations are that the accused obtained groceries from the defendant by representing that he had money coming to him, with which he would pay the bill as soon as received. Shortly after that he left McKeesport, and the prosecutor made inquiries of the persons of whom he was to receive the money, when it appeared that he had been fully paid. Hence the information. Rudolph was arrested in Manchester, and after a hearing before the magistrate, gave bail for Court.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—Mr. J. H. Hackett, the celebrated Shakespearian commedian, will appear this afternoon and evening for the last times this season in the city. His engagement has been a measurably profitable one to the management, although the audiences might have been much larger every night were it not for the heated political term we are in. Mr. Hackett has no peer in his peculiar line on the American stage, and we trust that he will be greeted this afternoon and evening with old fashioned rousing houses. On Monday evening the charming actress, Miss Helen Western, will appear.

Sixth Church, Allegheny.—The new church erected by the congregation under the care of Rev. A. D. Clark, D. D., will be opened for public service next Sabbath (Nov. 1st,) with appropriate exercises. The services in the forenoon to be led by Rev. J. T. Pressly' D. D., commencing at 10½ o'clock; in the afternoon by Rev. J. B. Clark, D. D., at 2½ o'clock; and in the evening by Rev. Charles A. Dickey at 7½ o'clock.

The Organ Concert at the Third Church.

For several days past public expectation has been on the qui vive in anticipation of the Grand Organ Concert and Exhibition which comes off to-night at the New Third Presbyterian Church, on Sixth street, between Smithfield and Grant. Prof. John Henry Willcox, Mus. Doc., of Boston, Massachusetts, will preside at the organ, and will give a thorough exhibition of its power, capacity and beauty.

Professor Willcox comes here with a musical reputation as an organist, unequalled in the Union. His thorough knowledge of the instrument, his perfect command over it, added to his wonderful skill as a performer, will give the assurance to all of our citizens who may be so fortunate as to obtain admission, that a great musical treat is in store for them.

There are three prominent organists who stand at the head of their profession in the United States, who excel in performing on this difficult and wondertul instrument—Lentze, Wm. Mason and John Henry Willcox. Leutze, as yet, we believe has not been west of our seaboard, metropolitan cities; Wm. Mason has already given our citizens a test of his skill, and now it remains for Professor Willcox, in this his first appearance before a Pittsburgh audience, to increase the reputation he has already won as one of the best organists in the Union.

The programme for this evening comprises the following musical gems: First, Gloria in Excelsis, by Hummel; 2d; Communion for Obie and Bassoon stops, by Batiste; Sonata Allegro, by Antonia Diana; 4th, Improvisation displaying the "Vox Humana" stop, by Wilcox; 5th, Offretoire in C, by Batiste; 6th, Overture, La Baracolle, by Auber; 7th, Adagio, from "The Passion," by Hayden; 8th, Elevation in F, by Lefebure Wetz; 9th, Overture Lestocq, Auber; 10th, Andante, First Symphony, Beethoven; 11th, Representation of a Thunder Storm, by Willcox; and 12th, Overture Fra Diavolo. There are some beautiful Fuges which Professor Willcox may possibly conclude to play, although Wm. Mason omitted to play a Fuge when he gave his last Organ Concert here, and we hope that Mr. Willcox will not omit this part of organ music, which shows so well to the lovers of harmony the wonderful power and beauty of the Organ.

This Organ is from the manufactory of Messrs. Hook & Co., of Boston, whose reputation as builders and thorough musicians cannot be questioned. It is eleven feet in depth, twenty feet wide and thirty feet high, and complete in all its parts, with the vox humana stop. It has three rows of keys, and two and a half octaves of pedal keys; also three composition pedals, and balance swell pedal. The total number of pipes is nineteen hundred and thirty-four—the smallest pipe being one-eighth by one-half inch, and the largest one and a half feet by sixteen feet. It has thirty-nine draw stops, and thirty-one speaking stops. The front pipes are handsomely decorated, and are useful as well as ornamental—not being "dummies." The organ occupies the large semi-circular recess in the rear of the pulpit, and stands in full view of the audience. It is certainly a fine instrument, and is in full harmony with the taste and elegance displayed throughout the entire building. Its cost will approximate $9,000.

The classification of the Manuales are as follows:

Great Organ—1st, Bourdon, 58 pipes; 2d, Open Diapasor, 58 pipes; 3d, Viota da Gamba, 58 pipes; 4th, Doppel Flute, 58 pipes; 5th, Octave, (Large Scale,) 58 pipes; 6th, Flute Harmonique, 58 pipes; 7th, Twelfth, 58 pipes; 8th, Fifteenth, 58 pipes; 9th, Mixture, 232 pipes; 10th, Trumpet, 58 pipes.

The trumpet stop is very brilliant and powerful.

Swell Organ—11th Open Diapason, 58 pipes; 12th Kenraulophen 58 pipes; 13th, Stopp Diapason, 58 pipes; 14th, Flute Francisco, 58 pipes; 15th, Octave, 58 pipes; 16th, Violina, 58 pipes; 17th, Flutina, 58 pipes; 18th, Mixture, 116 pipes; 19th, Cornopean, 58 pipes; 20th, Oboe, 58 pipes; 21st, Vox Humana, 58 pipes.

The Fluteno, Cornopean, Oboe and Vox Humana in the swell organ are among the principal features of the organ, being "solo" stops, separate from the Great Organ, which can be used singly or in combination.

Solo Manual—22d, Open Diapason, 58 pipes; 23d, Melodeon, 58 pipes; 24th, Dulcinea, (very sweet,) 58 pipes; 25th, Fugara, 58 pipes; 26th, Flute d'Amour, 58 pipes; 27th, Picols, 58 pipes; 28th, Clarionet, 46 pipes.

The Clarionet stop is one of the most perfect in the whole organ.

Pedals—29th, Open Diapason, (string imitation, 30 pipes; 30th, Bourdon, (soft,) 30 pipes; 31st, Violincello, 30 pipes.

Mechanical Registers—32d, Swell to Great Compler, 33d, Solo to Great Compler; 34th, Swell to Solo Compler; 35th, Great to Pedal Compler; 36th, Solo to Pedal Compler; 37th, Swell to Pedal Compler; 38th, Tremulant; 39th, Bellows Signal.

Besides the above are two Composition Pedals and a Wind Indicator for the use of the Organist.

The Church will be dedicated on Sunday morning, Professor Wilcox presiding at the Organ, as also at the sale of pews on Monday at ten o'clock. The regular Organist chosen by the Music Committee of the Church is Professor Rohbok, who enters upon his duties on the second Sunday in November.

Republican Meeting in Union Township—Perfect Organization.

Through the untiring energy of Colonel F. G. Negley, the Republicans of Union Township are most thoroughly organized. A Vigilance Committee numbering some seventy persons, to look after and bring out the entire vote of the Township on Tnesday next, has been appointed. Each member of the Committee has caught the enthusiasm of Colonel Negley, and you may rest assured that Union Township will do her duty. On Thursday night a large and enthusiastic meeting was held near Col. Negley's residence. After some preliminary business, a stirring and eloquent address was delivered by Col. John Glenn, of this city. The Colonel spoke for about one hour and a-half, and urged the importance of bringing out every vote. He said that one Republican vote polled for Grant on the third of November, had the same effect on the great issues of the day, that one ball from a Union soldiers during the war had when it sent one of the armed enemies of our country to a traitor's last resting place.

The speaker was listened to attentively throughout, and frequently applauded during his discourse.

Let every township work between this and next Tuesday as Union township has done and is now doing, and old Allegheny county will be good for 12,000 majority for Grant.

The Last Grand Rally—The Flag Occasion in Allegheny To-Night—Let All Attend.

A cordial invitation has been generally extended to the Grant and Tanner Clubs of this city to be present to-night at the last grand rally of the campaign, to be held at the Allegheny Diamond Square. The prize flag is to be awarded to the gallant Sixteenth Ward Tanner Club, with a fitting speech by Hon. James L. Graham, and the response on behalf of the recipients will be made by W. C. Moreland. Esq. The invincible Fourth Ward, Allegheny, Club will be also presented with a magnificent banner from their friends on both sides of the river. The presentation speech will be made by Col. R. Biddle Roberts and the response by W. S. Purviance, Esq. Neville township is to be similarly honored. A splendid banner will be presented in an appropriate speech by Dr. A. H. Gross and the reception will be made by Hon. John M. Kirkpatrick. This interesting programme will be interspersed with vocal music by all the Glee Clubs of the county. The ladies are invited to be present, as space has been reserved for them. Read the programme in another column.

A Good Dividend.

The Canton, Ohio, Republican pays the following compliment to a company which is formed almost entirely of our representative business citizens: "The Board of Directors of the firm of E. Ball & Co., manufacturers of Reapers, Mowers and Threshers in this place, declared a dividend on Monday, the 19th inst., of thirty-three per cent. The majority of the stockholders are Pittsburgh capitalists, men of means and experience, who are conducting the business with the most admirable tact and success. We learn that they have resolved to increase their capital stock immediately, so as to meet, if possible, the increasing demand for the machines manufactured by them. Their new reaper, the World, has proved a great success, and we predict that in two or three years they will be unable to meet the demand for it. The Company deservedly ranks among the most reliable in the country."

Meeting in Robinson Township.

One of the most spirited meetings of the campaign was held on Thursday night in Robinson township, at "Kansas," or No. 5 School House, near the Steubenville pike.

President—Captain John Young Jr.

Vice Presidents—Jonathan Aiken, James Speer, Andrew B. Moore.

Secretaries—D. Curry Shaw and James H. Ewing.

Mr. Young, on taking the chair, thanked the meeting for the honor conferred upon him, urged renewed efforts in the canvass, and concluded by introducing S. Alfred McClung, Esq., who was followed by Charles William Robb, Esq., and John M. Kirkpatrick, Esq., all of whose speeches were well received and were to the point. They were frequently interrupted by the heartiest applause. After the conclusion of the speeches the meeting adjourned with cheers for Grant and Colfax, to meet at the polls on Tuesday next, each man a vigilance committee to see that every Republican's vote in the township be polled. They claim in Robinson that they will largely increase their majority of October, which would seem enough in all conscience. However if they will insist on doing such a thing we will not grumble.

Meetings at Monongahela City.

On Friday afternoon and evening, were held at Monongahela City, two monster mass meetings, the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in that section of the country. Delegations were present from all the neighboring boroughs at the afternoon meeting, whose number largely increased in the evening. Hon. George V. Lawrence presided on both occasions. Gen. James K. Moorhead made a powerful and argumentative speech at the day light meeting, and in the evening William McKennan, Esq., of Washington, Pa., held forth, delivering an eloquent and patriotic speech. At night a grand procession was held and the town was brilliantly illumina ted. The Elizabeth Tanners, nearly one hundred strong, participated in the demonstration and were universally admired for their good marching and appearance.

Funeral Procession Mishaps.

Yesterday morning, as a funeral procession was moving down Webster street, on its way to St. Mary's Cemetery, a buggy, in which was seated Mr. B. J. Kearney, broke down, the occupant being thrown out, but sustaining no injuries. Arrived at the cemetery, by some means, a general jamming of the vehicles took place. A buggy, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. J. Hays, of the Eleventh ward, was upset, and Mrs. Hays thrown out, by which she received several slight bruises, escaping however without serious injury. A third buggy was overturned, and Mr. Edward Hart pitched out to the ground. He was but slightly injured. The procession was finally brought to rights and moved on its way, arriving at its destination without any further mishaps

Alleged False Pretence.

Dr. Wm. West made information yesterday, before Alderman McMasters, against Thomas Hughes for false pretence. The prosecutor alleges that the accused obtained two horses from him, by representing that he had a large lot of shingles on the Allegheny river which he would give in exchange for them. The offer was accepted and the prosecutor went for the shingles, but there were none at the designated place. The Doctor states that in the meantime Hughes went away with the horses, and can not be found. A warrant was issued, and officer Blondin is in search of him.

Meeting in the Seventeenth Ward.

The Republicans of the Seventeenth ward, held a large and enthusiastic meeting at their Wigwam, corner of Butler and St. Mary's avenue.

The meeting was organized by calling John W. Riddell, Esq., to the chair.

Able and eloquent addresses were delivered by R. B. Carnahan, Esq., and Major A. M. Brown, and Prof. Pope favored the audience with several of his excellent campaign songs, after which the meeting adjourned.

At George Beaven's popular aad first-class sweet meat and foreign and domestic fruit depot, No. 112 Federal street, Allegheny, our readers will find one of the largest and best assortments in that line in these two cities. Mr. Beaven thoroughly understands his business in its every department, and keeps nothing but the best and choicest articles. No poisonous candies are sold, but all of the richest and purest quality. The stock of canned fruits, vegetables, pickled oysters, table condiments, etc., is very superior. For anything in the line favor Mr. Beaven with a call.

Building Sites! Building Sites!—Sale this Day.—Twelve lots of one to six acres each, in R. H. Davis' plan of lots, between Jack's Run and Verner, three miles from Allegheny, on the Fort Wayne Railroad, will be sold at two o'clock this afternoon. These lots are unsurpassed for beauty and desirableness of location, and are worthy of especial attention. At the same time will be sold a good frame house of seven rooms with over an acre of ground. Free tickets by the 1:20 train, and return, will be issued by the auctioneer, Mr. A. Leggate, 159 Federal street, Allegheny.

Housekeepers generally will find it to their advantage to call at the Original Diamond Front Grocery, No. 164 Federal street, Allegheny, where they will find one of the largest and best selected stocks of pure teas, coffees, spices, etc., embracing a complete assortment of choice family groceries. Henderson George, the proprietor, is careful in making the purchases to buy nothing but what he can recommend, and nowhere else in either city can a better selection of goods be found at more reasonable prices.

Y. M. C. A. Open Air Meeting.—To morrow (Sunday) afternoon, at half-past four o'clock, there will be three open air meetings, conducted by the Young Men's Christian Association, one on the corner of Chestnut and Canal streets, Allegheny, one at the Cemetry Gate, Lawrenceville, and one on the corner of Railroad and Carson streets, Birmingham.

Private Sales this Day and Evening.—It will pay you to call at Palmer & Phillips' Auction Rooms (Opera House building) No. 60, Fifth avenue. New and seasonable boots, shoes, gums, carpets, oil cloths, blankets, quilts, shawls, flannels, shirts and drawers, cutlery clothing, umbrellas, fancy goods and notions at auction prices.

Pianos for Rent.—Ten good second hand Pianos for sale or rent, at low rates, at Charlotte Blume's, 43 Fifth avenue. 2

Minersville, Duquesne Borough and Steinway.

There is not now a nook or corner of the two cities without its Steinway Piano. Two splendid square grand "Steinway's" have just been disposed of to citizens of the above localities; although the sole agents, Messrs Kleber & Bro., can sell a beautiful Mixsell, or Kindt & Manz Piano for the low price of three hundred dollars and over—Pianos that are first-class and fully warranted—yet the "Steinway" is the choice of nine purchasers out of every ten; and well do they merit this flattering preference, for, in addition to their superb tune—which none others have yet been able to imitate—they can boast of a durability and power of endurance never before attained to, either in this country or Europe. New improvements are constantly added, and all that genius, ample means and great experience can suggest, is at once adopted in order to make the "Steinway" the leading Piano of the world.

Stained Glass.

Among the remarkable improvements in American manufactures nothing is more noteworthy than the great stride which has been made within the last few years in the business of staining and enameling glass. Up to a recent date the consumer has depended, in a large measure, upon the English manufacturer. As a matter of course, the carriage alone, leaving out the dealer's and manufacturer's profits, imposed a large tax on the consumer; sufficient, indeed, to justify the establishment of the business in our own country. Glass staining, however, to be conducted properly, should be combined with glass making. The glass stainer who depends upon the glass manufacturer for his material, is limited in his operations, and necessarily requires more time to complete his work. The manufacturer, on the other hand, has extraordinary facilities for staining and enameling unlimited quantities in a fraction of time required by the glass stainer. Page, Zellers & Duff, No. 8 Wood street, may be termed the pioneers of the new movement. They have demonstrated the fact that an article in every way equal to English stained glass can be made at rates favorable to the consumer. They are now prepared to fill orders for every style of plain white, chaste and elaborate designed stained and enameled glass, for public and private buildings, elegant transoms, side lights, transoms for business houses, with name of firm and number of street, &c. NEW YORK, July 1st, 1868.

DEAR SIR:—In your paper of last week you or one of your correspondents say that Dr. Drake is not the originator of the celebrated PLANTATION BITTERS, and that they were manufactured and sold by one Pedro Martelle, an old Spaniard, in the Island of St. Thomas, over forty years ago, as every old sea captain can testify. Now, sir, I can certify to the above as being true, for I have followed the sea for over forty years, most of the time doing business with the West Indies. These same Bitters, differently put up and named, were brought to my notice on my first trip to the Island of St. Croix for a cargo of rum, and for years and years after, my ship's stores were never without them. I always supplied my family and many of my neighbors with them, and can truly say a better Bitters and Tonic is not made in all the world.

Yours, truly,

THSTF. CAPT. HENRY WENTZ.

A Quietus Given to the Story Concerning Mr. Colfax's Know-Nothing Proclivities.

The oft repeated Copperhead lie that Speaker Colfax was instrumental in organizing a Know-Nothing Lodge in 1854, in South Bend, has received a quietus from Mr. John Colwell, an old resident of that place, in the following letter to the Quincy (Ill.) Whig:

"I desire to inform the people of Quincy, and especially those of foreign birth, that the statement proclaimed by the Democratic orators, and published by every Democratic organ in the country, that Hon. Schuyler Colfax was a member of a Know-Nothing organization at South Bend, Indiana, or at any other place, is totally false, and made only for political capital. I live at South Bend, and I am a neighbor of Mr. Colfax, and have known him since he was fifteen years old, and know whereof I speak. The Know-Nothing Club of South Bend was formed by the Democrats for the purpose of defeating the Whig candidate. I know this, because I was a member of the club, and one of the first to move in this organization. I further know that many of Mr. Colfax's friends and supporters at his home are of foreign birth, and have never given credit to the statement, and the Know-Nothing speech circulated as his is a bogus speech, and is not characteristic of his utterances."
